The Law Regulating Newspapers and Periodicals.

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions.

2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid; the subscribers are responsible for all the numbers sent.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bills, and ordered their papers discontinued.

4. The Courts have decided that a refusal to take a newspaper or periodical from the Post Office without notifying the publisher, and the payment of all arrearages, is prima facie evidence of fraud.

5. Subscribers to newspapers or periodicals removing, are liable to pay so long as the paper or periodical may be sent to the residence of the party at the time of subscription, unless notice is sent of such removal to the publication office.

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
76 Stat Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is more successful at the Patent Office than the subscriber; and as success is the best proof of advantages and ability, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Blackwood's Magazine,
AND THE
BRITISH REVIEWS!
Great Inducements to Subscribers!
PREMIUMS AND REDUCTIONS!!

L. SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz.:

1. The London Quarterly, (Conservative.)
2. The Edinburgh Review, (Whig.)
3. The North British Review, (Free Church.)
4. The Westminster Review, (Liberal.)
5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Tory.)

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the forthcoming year. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written newsitems, crude speculations and flying rumors of the daily Journal, and the ponderous Tome of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political interests of the time shall have passed away. It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for the only really intelligible and reliable history of current events and as such, in addition to their well established literary, scientific and theological character, we urge them upon the consideration of the reading public.

The receipt of Advance Sheets from the British publishers gives additional value to these Reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

POSTAGE.

The POSTAGE to any part of the United States will be but Twenty-four Cents a year for Blackwood, and but Fourteen Cents a year for each of the Reviews.

At the above prices the Periodicals will be furnished
For 1862,
AND, AS A
PREMIUM TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS,

The Nos. of the same Periodicals for 1860 will be furnished complete, without additional charge.

Unlike the more ephemeral Magazines of the day these Periodicals lose little by age. Hence, a full year of the Nos. for 1860, may be regarded nearly as valuable as for 1862.

Subscribers wishing also the Nos. for 1861, will be supplied at the following EXTREMELY LOW RATES.

THE NEWYORK TRIBUNE.
LARGE PREMIUMS.
TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto we have never offered any one a premium for trying to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling at little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues circulated in their respective neighborhoods should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, unselfish, painstaking, persistent efforts.

We propose for the present year, only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgment—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial,—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether original or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Good Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ensuing, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Daily Tribune—$6 per Annum.
Weekly Tribune

For $12,	Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune gratuitously to each subscriber, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	$1 00
For $10,	Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	$1 00
For $20,	Twenty-one Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	3 00
For $40,	Forty Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	8 00
For $80,	Fifty Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	10 00
For $80,	Eighty Copies Weekly Tribune to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	18 00
For $100,	One Hundred Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	25 00

$1 20 each will be required in all cases where the paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

Semi-Weekly Tribune.

For $11 25,	Five Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	$2 00
For $20 00,	Eleven Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	4 00
For $40 00,	Twenty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	10 00
For $60 00,	Thirty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	17 00
For $100 00,	Fifty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases, to value of	30 00

$2 25 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

The Pens will be of the manufacture of A. Morton, whose make we are using, and we know them to be the best made. They will be furnished at the manufacturer's lowest prices. To those as to the style and quality of Pens or Pens and Cases wanted for premiums, our friends are referred to the manufacturer's price list in The Tribune. See Advertisement headed "The Pen is Mightier than the Sword," and be particular and specify the number and quality of the Pearson Pens and Cases preferred.

Specimen copies of The Tribune sent when requested.

When Drafts can be obtained, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post Office and State should in all cases be plainly written.

Payment always in advance

In Peace or War, on land or sea,
Our flag, the ægis of the free,
Bright emblem of Columbia's glory!
Shall tell to coming years the story,
How, stout of heart, and strong of hand,
The patriots of our native land
Bore it, the nation's hope and life,
On tented field, 'mid fearful strife,
Still on! 'till through the sulphurous cloud
It broke in triumph Treason's shroud!

A Letter from the Army.

CAMP GRIFFIN, Va., Feb 17th 1862.

To the Publishers of the Whig & Courier —

A few months ago I was a visitor to your flourishing city, now I am a visitor to the Maine Regiments in "Dixie"—having enough of Yankee curiosity to urge me on to see all there is to be seen, I have traveled in mud over my boot tops going from the 2d Maine to the 7th Maine Regt.—and then onward to the 6th, 3d and 4th Regiments In most of the camps I found Bangor boys—especially so with the 2d and 7th Regiments I am of the opinion that the last two named are the best Regiments which have left our noble State Officers and men show themselves to be whole-souled Yankees, ready for fun, or for a fight, or for a long tramp thro' the "Sacred Soil" (confounded mud) in order to point out to the describer those places most full of interest, where one "brave Southron" whipped five Yankee wretches at running!—Well, to speak of the officers of the 7th, I think that Capt Gilmore is a Bangor man, Reese is from Houlton Cochran of Monmouth, these and the other captains are all active, stirring men who look after the interest of their respective commands closely I may here say that yesterday I was out of the U S, and in the celebrated C S A I merely stepped over the picket lines—and on nearing a Secesh house—I was much surprised to find myself, as a staid old Baptist, of "orinostone doctrine", trying to steal some poultry for my supper The pistol in my hands, when I left the tent, "went off accidentally of course" just as a fat hen was in range I was sorry of course, but our guard was not, as he shared the profits, or helped bear the loss, just as the venture turned out I need say no more than that a certain captain helped eat a hen that day Finding I was beginning to stink of treason, "falling from grace" and beginning to stea, I at once came within the lines and again became patriot soon having a chance to cheer for a glorious Union victory—News of the capture of Fort Donelson reached the 7th just as I got to camp, the companies did not wait to for orders, but turned out and gave "three times three" for the Union The band then struck up "Dixie," and as soon as that was finished "Yankee Doodle" was put off in a way that brought more cheers—goodness! what yells of joy! Any of the soldiers would have been very willing to be filled with powder or any other Baptist dose, in the saltpetre or brimstone line, and then touched off

The mud is beginning to disappear and the result will be that an advance will be made at no distant day As a civilian I have opportunities for witnessing the places of interest, the incidents, &c., in the localities to which my willing feet and muddy boots carry me Yesterday I spent all day examining the, so called, splendid mansions in the vicinity My idea is that these mansions are humbugs—nearly as great as the "Confederacy" A man wishing to build a mansion collects stones and mortars and erects two large chimneys—one at each end of the contemplated house, these done the odds and ends left constitute the rest of the building, the chimneys being the ends of the house, on the outside I must say that Brewer has more houses and prettier ones too than Lewinsville, Langley, and Falls Church Village all together could provide. Brewer is not your largest town by any means, yet I name it as being superior to any three places I have seen this side of the Potomac. The residences of the rebel Colonels Ball & Stewart are not more splendid than many barns in a country town in Maine

On my journey yesterday I found a shell fired by the rebels at the Lewinsville affair. It had not exploded; I built a fire laid it in and took myself off to a safe place My fire burned well—but no explosion occurred although the old thing got well heated through, so that I had to wait a long time for it to cool off as I could carry the baneful bomb, of secesh manufacture. Bullets, shells, and other things of interest are found in abundance.

So far as a description of the officers and men are concerned, it is my wish to lay in the lie the statements made by sundry persons in Maine regarding drunkenness in the 7th or 2d Regts First, I need to say that in describing the men, I describe them as being temperate, and sober, and orderly It is only necessary to state that officers or men cannot get liquor across the bridges or ferries, and a man only yesterday having a supply—with written orders for the same for officers of a neighboring Regiment—was arrested by order of Gen Smith, and today has in the pen made for such persons by Provost Marshal Porter I have been among the Regiments for three weeks and have not seen a drunken officer or man on this side of the Potomac, and it is very hard work for a man to get a pass to the city for any purpose, and all baggage being examined on return You can judge for yourself that they who call our noble soldiers drunkards lie in their teeth, so far as the men in camp are concerned I am not interested in any Regiment or in any way connected with them I cannot say as much for those who are on the other side of the river in Washington

So far as mud is concerned it has been impossible to go any great distance from camp without loudly cursing the "Sacred Soil" The men as they drive set latrude of one of their beasts and drive with only one rein sometimes the mules are frisky and the result is there is a "falling from grace," and loud oaths are out poured in every known tongue on account of mud, horses, war and whatever happens first to be thought of

I have been very much amused at seeing the Provost Marshal's guard smash the liquors of the sundry grog shops. None are allowed open after nine in the evening Such shops as are found to be open after hours have their bottles kegs, &c, smashed by the guard—and off to the guard house go the offenders, each one "leading two soldiers" The city of Washington is the worst place for rum drinking I ever was in, I have seen more drunken men on a fifteen minutes walk on Pennsylvania Avenue, than I saw in Bangor during my stay there of some two weeks. But to accuse men who have entered the field and crossed the Potomac, of being drunk, ill-fed, disorderly, &c, is to tell the meanest lie a man can be guilty of telling Take either of the captain's commands before alluded to or Capt Cass company, and I will guarantee that not one case of drunkenness has occurred while in Camp Griffin And I will challenge any letter writer, or base liar to come out in your paper, or in the Maine Farmer, or Lewiston Journal, with name signed in full, as authority to the effect that any one of the Maine Regiments in Virginia are guilty of being anything else than good, sober, well drilled active Regiments—or challenge such persons to prove three cases of drunkenness among the officers or soldiers while on this side of the Potomac "Come on M Duff" State your names honestly and I will follow suit, and proof and truth shall decide the matter SCRIBBLER

Will Mexico be Conquered?

England, France and Spain are attempting to invade Mexico with an army of about 25,000 men Will they succeed? The following figures may give some idea of the ability of the Mexicans to fight, as compared with other soldiers—Let us first look at the five principal battles of the last Italian war, as given in the French official reports—

	No. of Allies	Killed & Wounded	Per centum	No. of Austrians	Killed & Wounded	Per centum
Montebello,	7,000	850	12	18,000	1,150	6½
Palestro,	21,000	4,100	19	24,000	1,000	4½
Magenta	58,000	4,657	8	75,000	5,800	7½
Melegnano,	16,000	850	5	18,000	1,100	6
So Ferino,	145,000	15,500	11½	165,000	22,000	13½
Total	241,000	24,000	8	300,000	30,600	10½

Now let us turn to our losses in the Mexican war, in the five principal battles—

	Americans	Killed & Wounded	Per ct
Monterey,	6,000	488	8
Buena Vista,	4,900	22	4½
Molino del Rey	3,11	8	2½
Cherubusco,	7,500	1,00	13
Chapultepec	6,800	863	14
Total	28,317	3,981	15

The Mexican losses, in some of the battles above mentioned, have never been definitely stated Their average loss in killed and wounded was 11 per cent As compared with the battles between the French and Austrians, the Mexicans suffered themselves and made their enemies suffer to a greater extent, before yielding Will the allies now in Mexico, conquer the Mexicans with even four times their present numbers? The figures above answer emphatically—No It cost the United States, as official records prove, 78,260 men to conquer a peace from Mexico, and the American loss by battle and disease exceeded the entire force now operating against her E A H

As the New York Post says, the rebels have vivid imaginations and their reports of battles will be taken only with a very large grain of salt, after the proof we have had of their enormous exaggerations about the recent affair at Roanoke Island The various circumstances of the bloody fray were so minutely detailed by the flying Confederates who first arrived at Norfolk and Richmond, that they really persuaded the public there had been great slaughter on both sides, and an obstinate defence of the position chosen post on the part of the rebel troops. The celebrated Richmond Blues were said to have stood to their post till all were cut down but seven, but we now know that they all ran away but seven, who were killed or wounded—quite a different view of the affair.

An Alabama volunteer writes from one of the rebel camps "There is a new disease broke out here—the 'camp disease,' they call it The first symptom is a horror of gunpowder The patient can't abide the smell of it, but is seized with a nervous trembling of the knees, and a whitness about the liver, and a longing inclination to advance backward That's the way water moves small dogs. Then comes what our major calls home fever, and next the sufferer's wife and nine children are taken sick; after which the poor fellow takes a collapse, and then a relapse. But it's mighty hard to get a discharge, or even a furlough—awful hard, I tell you, you can't do it without working the thing pretty low down."

From "Fremont's Hundred Days in Missouri." (A history in the Atlantic Monthly)

Slavery.

Springfield, October 30th Asboth brought in his division this morning, and soon after Lane came at the head of his brigade It was a motley procession, made up of the desperate fighters of the Kansas borders and about two hundred negroes The contrabands were mounted and armed, and rode through the streets rolling about in their saddles with their shiny faces on a broad grin

The disposition to be made of fugitive slaves is a subject which every day presents itself The camps and even headquarters are filled with runaways Several negroes came from St Louis as servants of staff officers, and these men have become a sort of Vigilance Committee to secure the freedom of the slaves in our neighborhood The new-comers are employed to do the work about the camp, and we find them very useful, and they serve us with a zeal which is born of their long baffled love of liberty The officers of the regular army here have little sympathy with this practical Abolitionism, but it is very different with the volunteers and the rank and file of the army at large The men do not talk much about it, it is not likely that they think very profoundly upon the social and legal questions involved, they are Abolitionists by the inexorable logic of their situation However ignorant or thoughtless they may be, they know that they are here at the peril of their lives, facing a stern, vigilant, and relentless foe To subdue this foe, to cripple and destroy him, is not only their duty, but the purpose to which the instinct of self preservation concentrates all their energies It is to be supposed that men who, like the soldiers of the Guard, last week pursued Rebellion into the very valley and shadow of death, will be solicitous to protect the system which incited their enemies to that fearful struggle, and hurried their comrades to early graves? What laws or proclamations can control men stimulated by such memories? The stern decrees of fact prescribe the conditions upon which this war must be waged An attempt to give back the negroes who ask our protection would demoralize the army, an order to assist in such rendition would be resented as an insult Fortunately no such attempt will be made So long as Gen Fremont is in command of this department, no person, white or black, will be taken out of our lines into slavery The flag we follow will be, in truth, what the nation has proudly called it, a symbol of freedom to all

The other day a former of the neighborhood came into our quarters, seeking a runaway slave It happened that the fugitive had been employed as a servant by Colonel Owen Lovejoy Some one told the man to apply to the Colonel, and he entered the tent of that officer and said

"Colonel, I am told you have got my boy Ben who has run away from me"

"Your boy?" exclaimed the Colonel, "I do not know that I have any boy of yours"

"Yes, there he is," insisted the master, pointing to a negro who was approaching "I want you to deliver him to me you have no right to him he is my slave"

"Your slave! shouted Colonel Lovejoy springing to his feet "That man is my servant By his own consent he is in my service and I pay him for his labor, which it is his right to sell and mine to buy Do you dare come here and claim the person of my servant? He is entitled to my protection, and shall have it I advise you to leave this camp forthwith"

The farmer was astounded at the cool way in which the Colonel turned the tables upon him and set his claim to the negro, by reason of having hired him, above the one which he had as the negro's master He left hastily and we afterwards learned that his brother and two sons were in the rebel army

As an instance of the peculiar manner in which some of the fugitive slaves address our sympathies I may mention the case of Lazy one of my servants He came to my tent the morning after I arrived here, ragged hungry footsore and weary Upon inquiry I have found his story to be true He is nearly white, and is the son of his master whose residence is a few miles west of here but who is now a captain under Price—a fact which does not predispose me to the rendition of Lazy should he be pursued He is married after the fashion in which slaves are usually married, and has two children But his wife and of course her children belong to a widow lady whose estate adjoins his master's farm, and several months ago by reason of the unsettled condition of the country Lazy's wife and three children were sold and taken down to the Red River Fearing the approach of the Federal forces, last week the rebel captain sent instructions to have Lazy and his three slaves removed into Arkansas This purpose was discovered and Lazy and a very old negro, whom he calls uncle fled at night For several days they wandered through the forests and at last succeeded in reaching Springfield How can a man establish a stronger claim to the sympathy and protection of a stronger than that which tyranny, misfortune, and misery have given to this poor negro upon me? Bereft of wife and children whose love was the sunshine of his dark and dreary life, threatened with instant exile from which there was no hope of escape, what was there of which imagination can conceive that could increase the hard lot of evil which pressed upon this unhappy man? Is it strange that he fled from his hard fate, as the hare flies from the hounds?

His case is by no means extraordinary Go to any one of the dusky figures loitering around yonder fire, and you will hear a moving story of oppression and sorrow Every slave who runs breathless into our lines and claims the soldier's protection not only appeals to him as a soldier struggling with a deadly foe but addresses every generous instinct of his manhood Mighty forces born of man's sympathy for man are at work in this war, and will continue their work, whether we oppose or yield to them

Yesterday fifty-three Delaware Indians came from Kansas to serve under the General Years ago he made friends of the Delawares, when traveling through their country upon his first journey of exploration, and hearing that he was on the war path, the tribe have sent their best young warriors to join him They are descendants of the famous tribe which once dwelt on the Delaware River, and belonged to the confederacy of the Six Nations—for more than two centuries the most powerful Indian community in America Their ancient prestige remains—The Delawares are feared all over the Plains, and their war parties have often penetrated beyond the Rocky Mountains, carrying terror through all the Indian tribes These men are fine specimens of their race—tall, lightly formed, and agile They ride little shaggy ponies, rough enough to look at, but very hardy and active, and they are armed with the old American rifle, the traditional weapon which Cooper places in the hands of his red heroes They are led by the chief of their tribe, Fall Leaf a dignified personage past the noon of life, but showing in his erect form and dark eye that the fires of manhood burn with undiminished vigor

The value of the munitions of war and stock captured in Zollicoffer's camp is estimated as follows Horses and mules, $100,000, wagons, $60,000, ordnance, $85,000, muskets, $25,000, boats, $20,000, stores, $10,000 Total, $260,000.

The food question has been lost sight of, but it appears that France still needs 48,000,000 bushels of wheat to supply the deficiency in her last harvest, and England 82,000,000. These wants will help to preserve the peace of the world.

FROM THE ELEVENTH MAINE REGIMENT A Letter to the Times from this regiment encamped on Meridian Hill near Washington, dated the 18th describes the rejoicing in the camp upon the promulgation of the news of the Fort Donelson victory Some Pennsylvania regiments, encamped with them, joined in the demonstration He gives a specimen of the speech of Col Caldwel —

You must not think, fellow soldiers, that because we have gained two or three great victories the war is over A snake will live a long while after his head is cut off, and the stink of this miserable rebellion will continue to polute all honest men a nostril long after its back is broken and its body crushed Neither must we expect that our patriotic soldiers on the flanks are to do all the fighting and we all the waiting, but the time will soon come, and God grant it may come speedily, when I shall go with you, and you with me, to the battle field to let out the black blood of this secession with the cold steel I have never doubted, and have faith now that in that hour and amidst the wild hurrah of the bayonet charge, you will prove as brave as your brothers who are winning glory at the West

The writer speaks in high terms of Colonel Caldwell—as not only an able officer, but a whole man, with a noble heart, whom all under his command love and respect, and have perfect confidence in his justice and fatherly care The writer also compliments Lieut Col Plaisted, who has improved rapidly in his duties, and is distinguished for his kind disposition and genial, urbane manners

In conclusion, the writer says the soldiers are in want of reading matter, as magazines, interesting papers, &c., which will be welcomed in the camp

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for March opens with a very interesting statistical article upon "The Fruits of Free Labor in the small islands of the British West Indies." That beautiful serial the "Story of To-day" is concluded and "Agnes of Sorrento" is continued Among other articles are the following The Use of the Rifle, Methods of Study in Natural History, by Prof Agassiz, continued, The Rehabilitation of Spain, Fremont's Hundred Days in Missouri Bridofredom Sawin, Esq, to Mr Hosea Biglow, Taxation, Voyage of the Good Ship Union

Gen Wise is reported to rejoice over his son's death, probably thinking that to die by powder and lead is better than to die by the cord

The commander of the rebel rear guard at the evacuation of Bowling Green, was General Headman

LOVE AND WAR The Home Journal says a gentleman writing from the West, gives the following story, as Western "society news"

Travelling through this western world, I have just heard the materials for so good a story to be told among your 'Lookings on at the War' that I hasten to send it to you, feeling sure that you will thank me for so doing

The heroine is Miss Hattie Tyng, who contributes so many beautiful poems to the Home Journal, Louisville Journal Knickerbocker and other papers Miss Hattie, it seems, is young, beautiful, fascinating and a brilliant talker—one of those women whom all gentlemen admire It seems that she has been engaged for two or three years to a Southern gentleman, a Kentuckian who was the most devoted of lovers The acquaintance first commenced through his admiration of some of her poems and the correspondence is said to be exceedingly brilliant on both sides He is said to be handsome, dashing and talented, but slightly fast

Well the war broke out and a difference of opinion arose at once This dispute waxed warm and warmer—Miss Hattie was a fierce Unionist and he as fierce a Secessionist At last she could bear it no longer A letter written by him during last summer, about the time of the Bull Run affair being worse than all the others, she promptly sent it back to the rebel Southerner, and soon followed it by all of the others she had ever received wishing him to consider that the end of the acquaintance

He wrote back at once begging her to reconsider the matter, asking her to renew the correspondence proposing to drop the subject of the war entirely as they could not agree upon it No difference of opinion had ever before troubled them, why should it now? Miss Hattie is a most tenacious Unitarian, and the gentleman is a Catholic, but they had compromised on this matter and he thought they could on the other— But no, she replied to him, that to be sure, she had tolerated a difference of opinion before, but now his opinions were treason, and she had no tolerance for treason She insisted upon the return of her letters, and the matter ended after half a dozen letters upon the subject the last two or three of which she returned unopened

This is a specimen of the spirit of our North ern girls I think it good You may depend on its truth as I have it from a personal friend of the lady The gentleman is now a surgeon in the Southern army

IRON-CLAD STEAMERS

NAVY DEPARTMENT }
Washington February 8, 1862 }

THE Navy Department will until the 8th of March next, receive proposals for the complete construction and equipment of iron-clad vessels for river harbor and coast defence

These vessels will be the exception of those for the Mississippi river and its tributaries, will be propelled by screws those for the Mississippi river and tributaries may be propelled by paddle wheels—The hulls will be either wholly from which would be preferred, or of iron and wood combined as the projectors may consider most suitable for the object proposed but their sides and decks must be protected with an iron armament sufficient to resist the heaviest shot and shells

The vessels for the Mississippi river and its tributaries are not to draw more than six feet water when fully equipped and armed at which draft they are to be able to maintain a permanent speed of nine knots per hour in still water and carry sufficient coal in the bunkers for six days steaming at that speed The armament will consist of not less than six eleven inch guns

The vessels for harbor defence are not to draw more than twelve feet water when fully equipped and armed at which draft they are to be able to maintain a permanent speed of ten knots per hour in a smooth water and carry sufficient coal in the bunkers for seven days steaming at that speed—Their armament will consist of not less than from two to four eleven inch guns

The vessels for coast defence are not to draw more than twenty feet water when fully equipped and armed at which draft they are to be able to maintain a permanent speed of fifteen knots per hour at sea and carry sufficient coal in the bunkers for twelve days steaming at that speed Their armament will consist of one or two fifteen or twenty inch guns

The guns of the vessels for harbor and coast defence are to train at all points of the compass without change in the vessels position

The proposals must state the number of vessels subject to the selection of the Department, which the party proposes to furnish complete in every respect, including armor, paddle, steam machinery and equipment, all ready for service except mounting the ordnance and ordnance stores and provision the proposition must be accompanied by descriptive specifications, drawings and models from which a character that the work could be executed from them

The place of delivery must be stated the time within which the vessels or vessels are to be completed and also the sum to be paid for each

It will be stipulated in the contract that one fifth the sum amount will be retained by the Government until sixty days after the reception of the vessel or vessels shall have given a trial the remaining payments to be made with due regard to the progress of the work and progress of the work the contract will also embrace forfeitures for failure to perform the conditions specified

The bids must be accompanied by the guarantee required by law that if a contract is awarded it will be promptly executed and the names of the parties who are to become the sureties to the amount of the face of the contract will also be stated

The Department will consider any other propositions that may be presented in which the draft of water above named is not exceeded

The Department will be at liberty to accept or reject any or all the propositions 2awsw12

Taking of Nashville—Rebels Fallen Back to Murfreesboro—Nashville Occupied without Opposition—Floyd Fled Again Governor Harris Orders the Tennessee Troops to Lay down their Arms and Go Home—White Flags Reported Fly-at Memphis—Union Flag Flying over Tennessee State House—Legislature Adjourned to Memphis—General Curtis Still Pursuing and Harrassing Price—

NEW YORK, 26th

Thomas King, of Newport, R. I., William Shepherd, of Castine, Maine; F. E. Ellis, of Boston, Mass., J. Congdon, of Wicklow, R. I., and J. McKinnen, of Rockland, Me., have been appointed acting masters, and ordered to the gunners school at Boston

The executive session of the Senate to day was occupied exclusively with the consideration of the Mexican imbroglio It was debated at length with much earnestness, but no conclusion was arrived at

The nomination of General Scott as an additional envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary has not been acted upon The confirmation of the nomination depends upon the action taken in the Senate in reference to the recommendation of the President in regard to Mexican affairs

The World's despatch says it is understood that shallow craft of various kinds are being procured by the Government at Philadelphia and other points It is supposed they are for use on the Potomac

A Washington despatch says that General McClellan has received a despatch from the West, confirming the report that Nashville is taken by General Buell's army, and stating that the rebels have fallen back on Murfreesboro, about thirty miles south of Nashville

A verdict has been rendered in Kerrigan's case, the court martial finding him guilty of unbecoming conduct as an officer and gentleman, and he has been dismissed from the service General McClellan approved the finding of the court martial

The House by an emphatic vote to day forbid officers of the army and navy to decide the right of property, and return fugitive slaves.

ST LOUIS, 25th

The Republican's Cairo despatch says the occupation of Nashville is confirmed Our troops took possession without opposition Floyd fled as usual

The report that Governor Harris had ordered all Tennessee troops to lay down their arms, and go home, is confirmed

The Tennessee Legislature is called for next Monday

No opposition to Union movements is made anywhere on the Cumberland

It is reported that white flags are flying at Memphis

CAIRO, 25th

The following is a special despatch to the Chicago Tribune

Nashville was yesterday occupied by 20,000 troops, under General Buell The Federal flag is now flying over the State House

The Tennessee Legislature adjourned on Saturday week, and met again at Memphis

It is reported that commissioners have been appointed to confer with the Federal authorities at Washington to arrange terms for the transfer of allegiance, and that Governor Harris offered to turn the rebel forces over to the Union

A gentleman who escaped from Columbus arrived here last night He represents that there is a general Union sentiment in Tennessee, and thinks the Legislature will acquiesce in the recommendation of Governor Harris, because fear of the rising Union sentiment

When he left Columbus, there were 30,000 rebel troops there

WASHINGTON, 25th

The Navy Department to day received the following

CAIRO, 24th

To Hon Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy

Lieut Commanding Gwyn with the gunboat Taylor, has just arrived from Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama, and reports the Union sentiment in South Tennessee and North Alabama to be very strong I shall send him back to day, and will call for a regiment at Fort Henry to accompany the gunboat which will aid the loyal people of those States to raise Union forces within their borders

A H FOOTE,
Flag Officer Commanding

Gen Halleck to day telegraphed General McClellan as follows: "Gen Price's army has been driven from his stronghold at Cross Hollow—The enemy left his sick and wounded, and such stores as he could not destroy He burned his extensive barracks at that place to prevent our troops occupying them

Gen Curtis says most of our provisions for the last ten days have been captured from the enemy"

Congressional doings were not specially important yesterday

When a blackbird once learns a tune, he never forgets it, nor any part of it I once knew a blackbird that could whistle "Polly Hopkins," with wonderful accuracy His owner sold him, at the same time making the purchaser acquainted with the bird's favorite tune As soon as soon as the gentleman got him home, he at once hung up the blackbird, and going to the piano, struck up "Polly Hopkins" The bird's new master, however, introduced parts into the tune that he had never heard before, so, after listening awhile, he began hissing, fluttering his wings, and otherwise signifying his distaste of the whole performance Much surprised, the gentleman left off playing, and then the blackbird opened his throat and favored his new master with his version of "Polly Hopkins," nor would he ever listen with patience to any other version

The same blackbird, after staying in the service of the above mentioned gentleman for two years, was adopted by a serious family, where "Polly Hopkins" and all such profanity were sedulously avoided Whenever poor "Joe," (the blackbird's name), attempted to strike up the old tune, a cloth was thrown over his cage, and he was silenced The family consisted of an old lady and her two daughters, and every night, at 7 o'clock, prayers were read, and the "Evening Hymn" sung, and Joe, who was an obedient bird, and anxious to conform to the habits of the House, speedily learned the tune, and regularly whistled it while the old lady and her daughters sang it This went on for six or seven years, when the mother died, and her daughters separated, and Joe, now an aged blackbird, fell into new hands, but to his dying day he never gave up the "Evening Hymn" Punctually as the clock struck 7 he tuned up, and went straight through with it with the gravity of a parish clerk

DISAFFECTION OF THE FOREIGN RESIDENTS OF RICHMOND The disaffection of a large portion of the foreign population of Richmond, which has been developed by their stubborn resistance of the military draft now in progress, is of itself sufficient to excite the vigilance of citizens, and to put them on their guard in respect to particular classes of foreigners in our midst We are not in the habit of receiving information with at satisfactory assurance of its correctness We have in our possession a memorious information, which is from a source not only highly patriotic, but to which implicit credit is due, respecting the movements and suspicious speeches of a number of the foreign population of the city We are not entirely at liberty, nor do we deem it prudent, to detail the facts which have been communicated to us; but we may assure the public that vigilance is to be the price of their safety from enquiries in their midst—Richmond Inquirer

Be it Enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, That the Secretary of the Treasury be and is hereby authorized to cause to be issued to any public creditor who may be desirous of receiving the same, upon requisition of the head of the proper department, in satisfaction of audited and settled demands against the United States, certificates for the whole amount due, or parts thereof, not less than one thousand dollars, signed by the Treasurer of the United States, countersigned as may be directed by the Secretary of the Treasury, which certificates shall be payable in one year from date, or earlier at the option of the Government, and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent

The reply of Secretary Seward to Prince Gortschakoff relative to the Trent affair is expressive, generally, of the friendship between our country, a Great Republic in the West, and Russia, a great Monarchy in the East. He reports the assurance that the war will end in the perfect restoration of the Union on the old and well tried Constitution

Major Ferdinand Lucinote yesterday formally received his appointment on Gen McClellan's staff He is considered one of the most intelligent and efficient officers in the Swiss service, and is known as an author as well as a soldier He obtained leave of absence from his own government to enter our army

WASHINGTON, 26

Notice to the public is issued by the Commissioners appointed by the President to represent the interests of Americans at the World's Fair in London, through Secretary Seward, that Congress having declined to adopt measures to further a national representation, their authority has ceased They have advised the British Commissioners there will be no general participation by our citizens, but at the same time recommended to the consideration of the royal commissioners such works of industry and art as may be presented by individual exertions

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington City, D C, Feb 25

Ordered—

1st—On and after the 26th day of February inst, the President, by virtue of the act of Congress, takes military possession of the telegraph lines in the United States

2d—All telegraphic communications in regard to military operations, not expressly authorized by the War Department, the General commanding, or the generals commanding the armies in the field in the several departments, are absolutely forbidden

3d—All newspapers publishing the military news, however obtained, and by whatever medium received, not authorized by the official authority mentioned in the preceding paragraph, will be excluded thereafter from receiving information by telegraph or from transmitting newspapers by railroads

4th—Edward S Sanford is made Military Supervisor of telegraphic messages throughout the United States Anson Stager is made military superintendent of all telegraph lines and offices in the United States

5th—This military possession and control of the telegraph lines is not intended to interfere with the ordinary affairs of the companies.

A Fort Donelson despatch to the Democrat, dated yesterday, says—

A boat just from Clarksville reports the evacuation of Nashville The Union men of that place sent a boat to Clarksville, which towed up one of our gunboats for their protection

The rebels, with Governor Harris, retreated to Murfreesboro Harris burnt all the State documents before leaving

Gen Grant has declared martial law over the whole of West Tennessee, with the understanding that when a sufficient number of the citizens of the State return to their allegiance and shall desire to maintain law and order over the territory, all military restriction shall be withdrawn

Postal facilities are extended to Clarksville, and the mail bags will follow the flag

CHICAGO, 26

The following is a special despatch to the Tribune from Cairo

The Mortar Fleet is finished Nothing has transpired in reference to Columbus. Reports from rebel sources represent that a stand will be made at Columbus, Randolph and Memphis Forces are concentrating at Memphis, and the streets are barricaded with cotton

The reported pacification of Tennessee is denied The last Murfreesboro papers contain a savage war speech by Gov Harris

CAIRO, 25th

The Tribune's despatch says a proposition from the rebel leaders for a compromise has been submitted to our government, the gist of which is an armistice, with a view to a peaceable adjustment of the existing difficulties, and a convention of all the States for a revision of the Constitution

FORTRESS MONROE, 25th

The steamer Spaulding arrived from Roanoke Island 23d and Hatteras 24th She brings mails and passengers She has no news

The attempt to lay a telegraph cable has failed On the day the Hoboken sailed, 16 miles were laid most successfully, when operations were suspended for the night Yesterday she was occupied in taking soundings, when the gale struck her Her steam pipe broke soon after, and she became unmanageable, and drifted on Cape Henry, where she went ashore, and broke in two All hands remained in the wreck until 11 o'clock this forenoon, when the Spaulding took them

It is stated that the Hoboken passed within sight of the blockading steamer Cambridge, but the latter paid no attention to her Two other naval vessels also passed her without offering assistance She is a total loss All hands saved

The remainder of the cable, about 15 miles, was destroyed before she was abandoned About an equal quantity is laid in the bay, and the end is buoyed up

Mr Hawes presented a petition from a large number of merchants, &c, of New York, for a general bankrupt law; also, memorial from the Academy of Medicine against the employment of Homeopathic Surgeons

Messrs. Doolittle and Sumner presented petitions for emancipation.

Mr. McDougal, from the special committee reported a bill for the establishment of a Railroad telegraph line to the Pacific Ocean.

On motion of Mr. Wade, the bill for the organization and establishment of cotton land with just on up

The Senate passed a bill fixing the number of the members of the House at 241.

The Senate then took up the Starke case.

Mr. Sumner spoke at length against the admission of Mr Starke.

The Stark case was discussed by Messrs Cowan, Davis, Wilmot, Carlisle and Sherman.

Mr Sumner opposed an amendment to the committee's resolution so as to make it read that Mr Starke was not entitled to take the oath without an investigation into his loyalty He claimed that the affidavits in the case were worthy of an investigation, and the Senate was bound to meet disloyalty on the threshold, and should not allow a person to perjure himself in the Senate.

Mr McDougal said Mr Sumner had made almost unwarrantable assault on a person not permitted to reply

Mr Sumner said he only spoke on the facts in the case, and wanted to know in what he had made an assault

Mr McDougal said Mr Sumner had stated that if the applicant was permitted to take the oath he would be perjury

Mr Sumner replied that with all the evidence on the subject, if the Senate, without an investigation, allowed the applicant to take the oath they would allow him to perjure himself He would go still further and say that they would unfortunately be enact a comedy

Mr Davis contended that the Senate could not exclude or mere opinion, there must be some overt act What is disloyalty? That's the question He thought a majority of the people think the Senator from Massachusetts disloyal He could take the resolution offered by Mr Sumner and prove him to be as disloyal as the gentleman from Oregon, Indeed that was his view of the relative state of the case—The Senator from Massachusetts had better be ware what principles he advocated or he may be brought to submit to them himself

Mr Sumner read a letter from citizens of Oregon reproving the conversations and remarks of Mr Starke inimical to the government and in favor of the South

Messrs Cowan, Wilmot, Carlisle, Sherman and others, continued the debate, but without taking action

HOUSE.

Mr Voorhees of Indiana, asked leave to offer a resolution of thanks to Maj Gen Halleck

Mr Lovejoy of Illinois objected

The resolution commends the sentiments and policy avowed in Gen Halleck's order of Feb 23d, and says the war should be conducted in accordance therewith, and that the thanks of Congress be tendered to Gen Halleck for said order and for his military achievements as commander of the department of Missouri

Mr Van Wyck of New York, asked to be excused from service as chairman of the committee on contracts and on the committee on Revolutionary Pensions

Mr Van Wyck of New York offered a resolution which was adopted directing the committee on Government contracts to inquire into the amount of moneys received by Federal officers in the city of New York, by virtue of their offices, duties to the ownership and rents of the bonded warehouses, also the terms, considerations and profits of the labor contracts and general orders contracts for the storing, hauling and living, &c, of foreign goods in the city of New York—when made, and who are interested in the same

The Speaker ruled as to the chairmanship from which Mr Van Wyck asked to be excused from service, that it was a question for the committee to determine

The Upton contested election case was taken up and debated at considerable length

After debate the case of Mr Upton was laid over

The House concurred in the Senate's amendments to the bill fixing the number of representatives, viz: There shall be 241 members under the census of 1860, and additional representatives for Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Minnesota, Vermont, and Rhode Island owing to the large fractions of the states respectively

MORE GOOD NEWS The news by telegraph to day of the surrender of Nashville and the proclamation of Governor Harris of Tennessee, that the rebels of that State will lay down their arms and submit to the Federal Government, is an four glorious announcement of the success of the Union arms, and shows that the rebellion is in a helpless condition Where the Confederacy will make another stand, does not yet appear It seems almost certain that it will soon be driven out of the Gulf States The Union sentiment, however, which has now regained ascendency in Tennessee, will soon become powerful and formidable in all the rebel States, except perhaps South Carolina

Virginia mud must be of the most astonishingly muddy character, for while it is possible for some of our troops to wade through the swamps of Roanoke Island, sometimes getting both feet three feet beneath the surface, others of those troops cannot march into Virginia—Singular—very Another very singular fact is, that General Lander lately marched two columns of infantry, of 2,000 men each, on the soil of Virginia, one 43 miles and the other 32, which shows that they did not get stuck in the mud—Perhaps they were light troops Then he headed a charge of cavalry, 400 in number, and killed or took 88 rebels Ground on which cavalry can charge ought to be hard enough for even artillery to move over But then General Lander is a soldier, and it is astonishing how well, and through what obstacles, soldiers can march when they are led by a true soldier—Traveller

The Confederates are discussing a new flag, which is to be red and blue Black and blue should be their colors, though white has been their favorite in some conspicuous places

Traveller.

A young lady and gentleman arm in arm, skated round the skating park in Troy, New York, thirty times, without stopping, one day last week, The distance was at least ten miles The Times which tells the story, does not say whether the lady was so tired as to fall into the arms of the gentleman at last or not

IN THE STATE!

No. 20

Main Street, - - - - - Bangor.

I SAY IT not boastingly, but it is a fact and any one who will take the trouble to visit my establishment will be convinced of the truth of the statement.

Boots and Shoes.

My assortment of Boots and Shoes cannot be surpassed by any store in the State I have constantly on hand, and am manufacturing all the varieties of Ladies, Misses and Children's SHOES and GAITERS also, Men's Work of every description All work manufactured in my own establishment is made on the

Plumer Patent Anatomical Last,

the principle of which is well known I have manufactured for the last twelve months on the Patent Last, and am convinced that a vast deal of human suffering might readily be saved by those who have corns and bunions and confirming advantages which can be most sincerely appreciated by those who suffer from tender feet.

To Officers and Soldiers!

Every Officer and Soldier should have his Boots or Shoes made on the Plumer Patent Last. A soldier can travel further in a day, and with less fatigue, the natural arches of the foot are properly supported, and their development is favored so as to produce a firm and elastic tread Try them and you will be convinced.

MADE ON

PLUMER'S PATENT ANATOMICAL LASTS!

[From J. V. C. Smith, M. D., formerly Mayor of Boston.]

PLUMER'S PATENT BOOTS.

The Undersigned has worn a pair of these IMPROVED boots, and feels grateful to the inventor for the comfort derived from them. The nice adjustment of the sole to every part of the under surface of the foot, is an important circumstance which seems to have been entirely overlooked till Dr. Plumer planned his Last and Boot upon truly scientific principles.

Those who have once had an opportunity to test the real advantages of these Philosophically made Boots, will hardly be reconciled to wear any other.

J. V. C. SMITH.

BOSTON, July 26, 1861.

J. C. PLUMER, M. D.,

Dear Sir: I am greatly delighted with your newly invented boots which I have worn during the past winter, and only wonder that the world should have been so stupid as not to have made the discovery half a century ago. Any one with a grain of common sense and a moments reflection, cannot fail to see that your "PATENT BOOTS AND SHOES" are perfectly adapted to the foot (that wonderful piece of Nature's mechanism,) giving to every portion of it a full and equal support; and I am sure that those who once make trial of your new invention will never go back to the old fashioned boots or shoes, which are so prolific of Corns, Bunions, and a thousand other troubles. Your "Patent Boots" seems to be part and parcel of our Physical structure, supporting the foot in only proper straightness to the gait, and promoting for it an comfort to an eminent degree, especially in walking over rough surfaces.

I wish I knew a some means by which I could make known to every man, woman and child in Christendom, the great importance of your invention.

Very truly yours,
M. HARRISON, M. D.
63 Summer Street.

BOSTON, July 12, 1860.

DR. PLUMER—

Dear Sir: Having learned the principle upon which your "Anatomical Last" is made, I was favorably impressed as to its efficacy in relieving difficulty, which all have experienced, who have to walk considerably, viz: severe pain in the feet after much walking. After having worn the boots made upon the "Anatomical Last," I found my anticipations more than realized. I can walk nearly all day without experiencing the above named difficulty in the least degree. I also escaped the torturing process of breaking in my boots, for they were as easy at first as after they had been worn.

Truly Yours,

DR. SWEET'S

Infallible Liniment!

Great External Remedy

For Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Stiff Neck and Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Wounds, Piles, Headache, and all Rheumatic and Nervous Disorders.

FOR all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy, and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the famous bone setter, and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success.

AS AN ALLEVIATOR OF PAIN it is unrivalled by any preparation before the public, of which the most sceptical may be convinced by a single trial.

This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically, RHEUMATIC DISORDERS of every kind, and in thousands of cases where it has been used, it has never been known to fail.

For NEURALGIA, it will afford immediate relief in every case, however distressing.

It will relieve the worst cases of HEADACHE in three minutes, and is warranted to do it.

TOOTHACHE also will it cure instantly.

For NERVOUS DEBILITY and GENERAL LASSITUDE arising from imprudence or excess, this Liniment is a most handy and unfailing remedy.—Acting directly upon the nervous tissues, it strengthens and revivifies the system, and restores it to elasticity and vigor.

FOR PILES—As an external remedy, we claim that it is the best known, and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial, for it will not fail to afford immediate relief, and in a majority of cases will effect a radical cure.

QUINSY AND SORE THROAT are sometimes extremely malignant and dangerous, but a timely application of this Liniment will never fail to cure.

SPRAINS are sometimes very obstinate, and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst case may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days.

BRUISES, CUTS, WOUNDS, SORES, ULCERS, BURNS AND SCALDS, yield readily to the wonderful healing properties of DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT, when used according to directions. Also, CHILBLAINS, FROSTED FEET, and INSECT BITES AND STINGS.

Every Horse Owner

should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

Over four hundred voluntary testimonials to the wonderful curative powers of this Liniment have been received within the last two years, and many of them from persons in the highest ranks of life.

CAUTION.

To avoid imposition, observe the signature and likeness of Dr. Stephen Sweet on every label, and also "Stephen Sweet's Infallible Liniment" blown in the glass of each bottle, without which none are genuine.

PROF. WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE

AND

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste, it is revivifying, exhilirating and strengthening to the vital powers—it also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skilfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature, and hence suited to the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs actually all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilirating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those combined having powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered by debility; for it should be no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unassisted system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous diseases to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example, as the following: Consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, melancholy, hypocondria, night sweats, langour, giddiness, and all that class of cases so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called female weaknesses and irregularities. Also, liver derangements or torpidity, and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, predisposition to heart complaints, backing and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say it will not only cure the debility following chills and fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic Influences, and cure the disease at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the liver to action, promoting an fact all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water; hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits—students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those diseases which rob them of their beauty; for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again the cordial is a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and comfort. There is no mistake about it, this cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline of not only of your daughters, before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often goes down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so unnerved up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal, for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market Street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists.
